

Education is a second career for me. Previously, I spent 11 years working for ESPN. I worked my way up the corporate ladder to marketing manager for the western region of the United States. After a successful career in marketing, my passion was always in education. I have been involved in education through several different aspects, and it was my calling to go into education. I have been in education for 14 years. I have taught 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th. Over the past 14 years, I have been involved in many different areas of education. This ranges from being involved in Junior Achievement, to the Charter School movement, to being a mentor, a team leader, a national trainer, and also curriculum training. I am an active board member of several different local organizations, and am very involved in local civic causes. After a successful career in the classroom, I made the decision to go into school administration. In 2009, I became the Head of School at CSCA. My personal life consists of my 5 children ranging from 22 years old to 7 year old triplets. I am very active in sports, and my favorite sports are skiing, tennis, hockey and football. I am a native to Colorado Springs, and love living in the best community in the country.
